POPE AGAIN TO APPEAL FOR PEACE

Rome, July 14.—Pope Benedict, it is reported in church circles here, is preparing to issue a second appeal for peace on the occasion of the second anniversary of the beginning of the war, now only two weeks away. The issuance of the appeal depends upon the successes of the allies in their present offensive. If the Anglo-French forces, for example, have made a wide breach in the German lines, and are steadily pushing back the Germans as the anniversary draws near, His Holiness will regard the time as inopportune and will have little or nothing to say regarding peace.

If an appeal is issued, it will contain no direct proposal of a truce, it is stated authoritatively. The pontiff does not intend to take the initiative to secure peace unless he has been approached by one of the belligerents.

Pope Benedict is reported to be studying a plan for the prevention of future wars.

CONGRESS TO QUIT BY AUGUST 10TH

Washington, July 14.—House Leader Kitchin told President Wilson today that he believed congress would be ready to adjourn by August 1 or August 10 at the latest. The house will have completed its legislative program by tonight, Kitchin said. President Wilson said he would be pleased when the senate has finished its work.

With the disposal today of the corrupt practices act, the president told Kitchin he would have nothing more for the house to consider. The house will adjourn from day to day to receive conference reports.

Republican Leader Gallinger formally assured the senate today there would be no filibuster against the ship purchase, child labor, immigration restriction, workmen's compensation for government employees or vocational education bills.

PHYSICAL DEFECTS IN MILITIAMEN

Columbus, N. M., July 14.—Because of hasty physical examination before leaving Massachusetts for the border, militia stationed here may have to submit to a more severe medical test. The prospects are that this would deplete the ranks. Precautions are necessary to weed out weaklings, who become pensioners, if disabled. Several men affected by the recent heat dropped in their tracks and were brought back to camp in automobiles. Their condition is not serious. Humidity from recent rains and a temperature of 98 made the weather oppressive. Plans are being made for a long stay by the national guardmen. Wooden flooring is being constructed in the tents and the men are building miniature adobe walls around their tents to keep out heavy rains.

A higher and dryer camp is being prepared for the militia. Six hundred more guardmen are expected Saturday.

Following the rains, swarms of sand flies have appeared to make life miserable for the incautious militiamen who show a light in their tent at night. A bitter protest has gone up from New Mexico militia recruits over the quartermaster-general's order that men who enlisted after state mobilization were not entitled to pay until mustered into federal service and, if rejected, lose their time and money spent awaiting the physical examination.

United States Senator Falls made a visit to the base camp here to investigate the effects of the order, with a view to taking up the matter with Washington. One man from Kansas City waited a month for examination and was rejected. He lost his position and borrowed money to return.

ZEPPELINS WILL COME TO THE U.S.

Baltimore, July 14.—Super-Zeppelins, capable of carrying passengers, probably will be soon operating between Germany and the United States, Captain Koenig of the German submarine Deutschland intimated today. The sub-sea freighter Deutschland's dash for Germany drew nearer today. Her holds were rapidly filled with nickel and rubber and everything was arranged whereby she could make a swift and safe getaway. The hydroplane stored secretly at her dock will be used to "blaze a trail" past the Virginia capes, and if a hole is found in the British war vessels' lines, the Deutschland will take the chance of running that blockade immediately. In any event,

Captain Koenig is supremely confident that sooner or later he will give the allied patrol the laugh and be merrily on his way back with his million dollar cargo.

"We are building such Zeppelins," he said, "and they are large enough to hold 40 passengers."

"Will they come here?" he was asked.

"They might," he answered, with a knowing smile, and Manager Hilken of the Deutsche Ozean Rheterei echoed his sentiment.

"I knew about the Deutschland six months before it arrived," chimed in Hilken significantly, "but I did not tell all about it. But you can say that the Zeppelins may come."

"Will they carry freight?" Captain Koenig was asked.

"No, just passengers. We are making quite a few of these Zeppelins all the time."

Previously Koenig had suggested strongly to Baltimore city officials that the air line is in contemplation.

"Quite an idea, isn't it?—freight ships under the sea and passenger flyers above the sea," added Hilken at the close of the interview.

FISHED WITH A GANDER.

And Now the Poor Fellow Shows a Distinct Aversion to Water.

A gander was so upset by experiments made upon and through him by a mischievous boy that for a long time he would not go into the water.

The gander's determination to abstain from water as a means of bathing grew out of the following circumstances:

The boy thought he would tie a fishing line to the gander's leg and with a hook properly baited turn the bird out into the water. The bait was a frog.

The gander went into the mill pond, where he swam around for half an hour, turning "flips" and diving for food. Suddenly he felt a pull at his leg and looked as surprised as the "long fisherman" when he caught a whale.

The gander thought there was something the matter, and he looked to ascertain the cause. The pickerel on the hook gave several jerks, whereupon the gander decided he wanted to go home.

He at once started for the shore, but the pickerel on the hook wanted to go the other way. The gander seemed frightened at first. Then he evidenced signs of anger and tried to fly to shore, but the pickerel pulled him back.

After half an hour of the hardest work he had ever done the gander came ashore, dragging a six pound pickerel up the bank.

The boy took off the pickerel and baited the hook with another frog. He tried to induce the gander to go in for another swim, but no amount of persuasion could get the bird to do so. He simply would not be driven in. For many weeks the gander would not go into the water. He would proceed with the rest of the flock to the water's edge, but there he would stop. He would seem to be arguing with them with reference to the danger they were courting.—Los Angeles Times.

Milton and Aerial Warfare.

Milton had a prophetic vision of war aeroplanes and Zeppelins when he wrote:

"The towers of heaven are filled With armed watch that renders all secure Impregnable; oft on the bordering deep Escapade their legions, or with obscure wing Boast far and wide into the realm of soaring surprise.

What if . . . this armament Of hell should sport her cataracts of fire One day upon our heads?

Modern war is a very apt example of fitting after events to a prophecy.

The Chippewyan Woman.

Ideals may vary, but it seems that the Chippewyan Indians also had a well rounded conception of "woman's sphere." "Women were made to labor," an old chief told the traveler Hearne. "One of them can carry or haul as much as two men can do. They also patch our tents and make and mend our clothing—in fact, there is no such thing as traveling any considerable distance without their assistance."

A Change.

"We must economize," he said emphatically.

"I'm so glad," his wife exclaimed. "You take the announcement more good naturedly than usual."

"Yes; it's pleasant to hear you use the plural pronoun. Ordinarily when there is any economizing needed you expect me to do it all."

WILSON BIDS FOR PROGRESSIVE VOTE

Washington, July 14.—Expressing belief that his party "represents a larger part of the progressive power and thought of the country than any other party," President Wilson today made a formal bid for the progressive vote at the coming election.

In a letter to J. C. Parker, progressive, of Philadelphia, who had written asking the president if he "would accept the leadership of progressives of all parties," President Wilson wrote:

"I have read your letter of July 10 with a great deal of attention, and with very serious interest and realize as keenly as you do the anomalous conditions by which many of the progressive voters are being confused and misled as well as the old, inveterate attractions which seem to control the choice of many of them in matters political. In answer to the question contained in your letter, I will say that, for my own part, I have no jealousy whatever of independent organizations, intended to keep the independent voters of the country reminded of their opposition and fully informed as to parties and the conditions under which votes are being solicited.

"For myself I sincerely desire and have tried to deserve the support of all progressive, forward-looking men. I believe and I think that recent experience has confirmed that the democratic party represents a larger part of the progressive power and thought of the country than any other party, and that it can be made the instrument and is being made the instrument of leadership in the direction which all men who love justice and progress must wish to take.

"It is for that reason that I am proud to be the nominee and to have the opportunity to lead it.

"Cordially and sincerely yours,

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON."
